Homemade Bread Collection

Longer loaves live in Nutrition

Nutrition already has three lifeZoi breads: rustic sourdough, whole-wheat sunflower and walnut bread, and oatmeal and seed bread. Those pages are the full recipes. This collection does not replace them.

Homemade bread is not automatically healthier, and it is not automatically lower in carbohydrate. You do get to see what went in. Wash your hands. Keep raw dough away from anyone who should not taste raw flour. Ovens and pans stay hot after you turn them off.

Three shorter breads

The three recipes below were written for this guide. Each one lists no sugar, honey, syrup, juice, or sweetened mix, so added sugar is 0 g as written. Cup amounts are approximate. Weight is the steadier measure.

Skillet flatbread

Added sugar in this recipe: 0 g. The ingredients are flour, water, salt, and olive oil. No sugar, honey, syrup, juice, or sweetened mix is included.

- Ingredient: 240 g all-purpose flour, about 2 cups
- Ingredient: 150 g water, about 2/3 cup
- Ingredient: 4 g fine salt, about 3/4 teaspoon
- Ingredient: 10 g olive oil, about 2 teaspoons, plus a little for the pan
- Step 1. Stir the flour, water, salt, and oil into a soft dough. Cover and rest 15 minutes.
- Step 2. Divide into 4 pieces and press each into a thin round.
- Step 3. Warm a skillet over medium heat with a little oil. Cook until both sides have brown spots, about 2 minutes a side. The pan is hot.
- Step 4. Cool for a minute. Flour still contains carbohydrate. This is not a calorie target.

Chickpea skillet bread

Added sugar in this recipe: 0 g. The ingredients are chickpea flour, water, salt, olive oil, and optional cumin. No sweetener is included.

- Ingredient: 120 g chickpea flour, about 1 cup
- Ingredient: 240 g water, about 1 cup
- Ingredient: 3 g fine salt, about 1/2 teaspoon
- Ingredient: 15 g olive oil, about 1 tablespoon
- Ingredient: 1 g ground cumin, about 1/4 teaspoon, optional
- Step 1. Whisk the flour, water, salt, oil, and cumin. Rest 10 minutes. Add a splash of water if the batter is stiff.
- Step 2. Heat an ovenproof skillet with a little oil in a 425 F (220 C) oven for 5 minutes. The handle gets hot.
- Step 3. Pour in the batter. Bake about 18 to 25 minutes, until the top is set and the edges are brown.
- Step 4. Cool on a rack before slicing. This is a bread, not a treatment.

Same-day herb rolls

Added sugar in this recipe: 0 g. Yeast is not sugar. No honey or sugar is added. The ingredients are flour, water, yeast, salt, olive oil, and dried herb.

- Ingredient: 300 g all-purpose or bread flour, about 2 1/2 cups
- Ingredient: 190 g lukewarm water, about 3/4 cup plus 1 tablespoon
- Ingredient: 5 g instant yeast, about 1 1/2 teaspoons
- Ingredient: 5 g fine salt, about 1 teaspoon
- Ingredient: 15 g olive oil, about 1 tablespoon
- Ingredient: 2 g dried rosemary or another dried herb you already cook with, about 1 teaspoon
- Step 1. Stir the yeast into the water. Mix in the flour, salt, oil, and herb.
- Step 2. Knead about 6 minutes. Cover until puffy. A warm kitchen may take about 45 minutes. A cool one may take longer.
- Step 3. Divide into 8 balls. Set them on a lightly oiled tray and cover until puffy, often 20 to 30 minutes.
- Step 4. Bake at 375 F (190 C) for about 16 to 20 minutes, until browned. Cool before you pack them.
